Northern Lights Library System celebrates ten years of linking NE Alberta libraries

The Elk Point-based Northern Lights Library System celebrated ten years of linking libraries in north-east Alberta with a gala dinner at their seventh annual System Mini Conference in St. Paul last Thursday. Several members of the steering committee whose efforts laid a firm foundation for the thriving system, including Doreen Bean of St. Paul and Irene Miller of Elk Point, were present for the occasion.

The steering committee was established in January 1985, and lobbied municipalities and the Province of Alberta for the creation of the system, with 15 municipalities and a geographic area of 13,320 square miles included in the area served when the system became a reality in April 1990. A headquarters building in Elk Point was officially opened two years later.

A five-year freeze on system expansion imposed in 1993 was finally lifted in 1998 and Northern Lights mushroomed from 14 to 38 municipalities in the next two years. In July of this year, the NLLS Board voted to accept the offer of the Pan Canadian Building in Elk Point as the new headquarters site for the system.

Northern Lights currently has 36 library service points serving a population of over 114, 000 with comprehensive, cost-effective library service, helping member libraries to provide greater levels of service and access than they could on their own and promoting sharing of resources among libraries.

MLA Paul Langevin congratulated Northern Lights on behalf of the Province, and said "You've come a long way." He predicted continued success and said he looks forward to seeing the new headquarters opened in the near future.

Marcel Landry, deputy mayor of St. Paul, said "new people are banging on the door to come in. I would like to see the government loosen their purse strings to help the people involved in library systems."

NLLS Board chairman Don Gulayec was assisted by Lillian Konieczny of Mannville as he presented representatives of each member municipality with sets of coffee mugs, representatives of each library board with a clock for their library and representatives of the newest members with commemorative pins.

Punch Jackson, Manager of Strategic Information and Libraries Branch for Alberta Community Development, said the gathering celebrated "a partnership that started as a pebble in a pond... a partnership between municipalities with a common vision... and commitment to library service." Now, he said, that system is "busting at the seams, charged with energy and on the edge of a

Small Business Week

Small Business Trade and Information Fair tonight

Tonight's the night to learn about all the businesses and services we have in Elk Point, as the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce celebrates Small Business Week with the presentation of their very first ever Trade Fair and Information Show.

Everything from home-based businesses to retail businesses, the service industry and corporations has been invited to take part in this gala event, going from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, October 24 at the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre.

Chamber president Eugene Buck and Lindsay Wagner told the Chamber last Wednesday that they had 16 confirmed bookings and at least eight more names on the tentative list, two of which confirmed their attendance during the meeting. A major fax-out campaign inviting businesses to take part had been delayed until last week, and Buck and Ms Wagner were confident that more businesses would be calling them to get on the list. They planned to keep taking registrations "until we run out of tables."

Coffee and cake will be served and door prize draws will be part of the evening as well.

President Buck told the Chamber that one thing he thinks will evolve from the evening is a directory of Elk Point businesses which would be useful to residents and visitors to the community alike.

The October 18 Chamber meeting saw the introduction of new Servus Credit Union manager Dale Burney, and the announcement by Toronto Dominion Bank manager Gloria Pundick that she will be retiring November 30. Along with her retirement comes restructuring within the branch, with agricultural and commercial loans to be handled out of St. Paul branch. Personal accounts will continue to be handled at the Elk Point branch, where there will be an 'officer in charge' rather than a manager. The account manager position is also being eliminated and two teller positions will be added to shorten lineups.

Ms Pundick says the changes will be "transparent to the customer" and the branch's refocusing "will still provide what customers need" even to the point of bringing someone down from St. Paul if necessary to do loan dealings at this office. Buck congratulated Ms Pundick on her upcoming retirement and the good service she has provided to the community. The Toronto Dominion Bank has been part of Elk Point's business district since 1947 and no further restructuring is likely in the near future, Ms Pundick said.

Also on a Small Business note, President Buck read a most interesting article by local historian Steve Andrishak which will be part of a newly expanded version of "Our Past," a collection of essays by Andrishak produced by the Elk Point Historical Society. This story dealt with the Friendship Trains which brought Edmonton businessmen to Elk Point and other towns along the route, and their rip-roaring return visit to the big city in 1953 which included a sightseeing tour and a banquet. Those were the days!

Halloween Hours

Elk Point Town Council has declared 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. on October 31 as Trick or Treating hours for all little ghosts and goblins. Happy Halloween!

member municipality new frontier." This, he said, is due to the contribution of people like Mrs. Miller, Miss Bean, Sandra Babcock, Carole Carpenter, Ray Campeau and other dedicated founding members, and to the support of MLA Paul Langevin.

Jackson listed many accomplishments and innovations, and said that the largest-ever public relations campaign will start early next month, "bringing high profile people out of the woodwork to talk about the value of libraries."

"We're here to celebrate that we haven't lost sight of the goal of bringing the best library service possible to northern Alberta. I hope to be back soon to share champagne in the new headquarters, and I look forward to many more years of working with Northern Lights," he concluded.

The conference continued Friday with workshops geared at giving representatives of member libraries the latest information on technology, fundraising and lobbying to assist them with serving their patrons.

National Block Parents Week, October 22-28

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

This week, October 22 through to October 28, is National Block Parents Week. We are so fortunate to have this program in our community of Elk Point. We currently have nine Block Parents within the Town of Elk Point and one Block Parent in the country close to Elk Point. A big thank you to all of you - we appreciate you.

When did the Block

Parent Program begin? The first Block Parent Program began in London, Ontario in 1968. The Program rapidly expanded across Canada over the next five years. In 1983 a national committee was formed and the Block Parent Program of Canada became incorporated in 1986.

Who are the Block Parent Programs? The Block Parent Program of Canada Inc. (BPPCI) is an affiliation of 11 registered Block Parent Committees, one from each province and the Northwest Territories. In turn, these committees have over 1000 community members across Canada. Each committee is operated by the Block Parent Program in accordance with the bylaws and policy of BPPCI. In Elk Point, the Block Parent Program is operated under the Town of Elk Point FCSS Board.

What is BPPCI? BPPCI is a registered charity that is operated by volunteers. With over 500,000 police-screened participants, the Block Parent Program is the largest volunteer-operated child-safety-crime-prevention program in Canada.

Where all does the BPPCI operate? BPPCI operates in Canada with an affiliate in Belgium. Our program is recognized internationally as a quality child safety program. We have assisted foreign governments in establishing similar child safety programs overseas and continue to respond to requests for information.

And the Mission Statement is... The mission of the Block Parent Program is to provide immediate assistance through a safety network and to offer supportive community education programs.

The Block Parent Program Mandate is:
1. To provide a network of police-screened, easily recognizable, safe homes for members of the community, especially children, to turn to in times of distress;
2. To educate children about the Program, safety on the streets and safety within the home; 3. To develop promotions and materials to educate the community about the program, latch key children and street-proofing; and 4. To work together with the police, educators and other community groups toward safer communities.

If anyone has any questions about the Block Parent Program in Elk Point, please call Deanna at the FCSS Office at 724-3800.

Elk Point Elementary School jumps on the Operation Christmas Child shoebox bandwagon

The Elk Point Elementary School is joining local churches and F. G. Miller High School in the crusade to give a glimmer of hope to children in far-off lands who are suffering the effects of war, famine, natural disaster or extreme poverty. Students and staff kicked off their Operation Christmas Child campaign on Friday, and will be busy shopping and stuffing the bright red and green shoe boxes with small gifts to be sent overseas to needy youngsters.

Denise Bjorkman, who has spearheaded the campaign at F. G. Miller for the past few years, made a presentation on the program to Elementary staff last week, leaving them ready and eager to join in promoting the cause. Teachers Janelle Richard and Wayne Hymanyk made a start on the program in their classrooms last year, but this is the first school-wide effort. Hymanyk said they have set a goal of 100 boxes, and feels this may well be exceeded.

The Elementary School library is the headquarters where both students and community donors can pick up the empty boxes and drop them off once they are filled. Two big candy canes with a hundred stripes apiece have been hung just outside the library door, and everyone who fills a box will be given the opportunity to color a stripe - even if, Hymanyk says, the box has been taken to one of the participating churches or to F. G. Miller.

Deadline for receipt of the filled boxes is November 6, when the school's boxes will be loaded up and hauled to Elk Point Baptist Church, ready to be shipped off to recipients in Central and South America, West Africa and Southeast Asia.

Boxes may be prepared for either a boy or a girl, in the 2 to 4, 5 to 9 or 10 to 14 age groups. Contents may include school supplies such as pens, pencils, crayons, coloring books and paper, small toys such as cars, stuffed animals, balls or dolls, hygiene items such as soap, toothbrushes and paste, comb or brush, and other gifts, such as a ball cap, t-shirts, picture book, socks, etc. The most basic items, Hymanyk says, can be a treasure to a needy child.

Hymanyk thinks the program is so important "it should be put in the Health curriculum, to teach kids about volunteering and helping others. It makes us appreciate what we have." He credits Margaret Modin with initiating the Operation Christmas Child program in Elk Point, and thanks Mike O'Neill of F. G. Miller for hauling the supply of boxes to the school.

Dogs and dog owners have some rights too

To the Editor:

The other day, while I was out for my daily walk with my three small dogs, a man asked me "Why don't you leave those dogs at home?" I'm afraid I got upset with him. I pay for my dogs' licences, I clean up after them, and unlike some of the big dogs in town, they don't run loose. I'm tired of people's rude remarks when I'm out walking them. I love my dogs and take good care of them. It's my right as a citizen of this town to protect them and to fend for our rights.

Meeting the needs of Alberta's agricultural producers

By Paul Langevin MLA

Lac La Biche - St. Paul

On October 6, 2000, Agriculture, Food and Rural Development Minister Ty Lund announced a $233 million farm income assistance program aimed at helping the province's producers who are suffering through another difficult year.

I am sure it is no shock to you to know that our producers are not enjoying the same economic good fortune as the rest of the province. For the fourth year in a row, farm cash receipts from crops are expected to be down by approximately three percent. Over those four years, farmers have been hit with a combination of low commodity prices, high input costs and drastic weather problems like drought and flooding. While prices for things like fertilizer, fuel and natural gas continue to increase, farmers do not have the opportunity to pass on those increased because the prices for their products are set in the international marketplace.

Last spring, the federal government announced a federal-provincial special funding program to assist producers in Saskatchewan and Manitoba who have been plagued with similar income problems. So our producers would not be disadvantaged, the Alberta government announced the Farm Income Assistance Program (FIAP) in March 2000. We then went to the federal government and asked them to provide their share of the same funding to Alberta farmers. That amount was $103 million. So far, we haven't had much luck in reaching a satisfactory conclusion. As well, since crop reinsurance funds are now handled by the private sector, we estimate that there is about $77 million in reinsurance funds sitting in Ottawa that should be back in the pockets of our farmers. We have asked for that back as well. Between these two, producers are owed about $180 million.

Instead of waiting for a response from the federal government, Alberta is using provincial money to help. As Lund announced, a $233 million Farm Income Assistance package is now available that will pay farmers $6 per cultivated acre and $3 per acre on pasture land. Beekeepers will also be eligible for $3 per operational colony. And, in response to concerns we have heard around the province, advance payments will be available under the Farm Income Disaster Program (FIDP) that will help farmers with their cash flow this fall. A new farm income disaster loan program is also available with favorable lending rates and terms to assist during difficult times.

Agriculture continues to be a very important part of our provincial economy despite the difficulties facing primary producers. This is a critical time and we are stepping up to the plate to help. The continued viability of the industry is important not just to the farmers, but also to the rural communities and to all of us who enjoy the wonderful bounty they grow.

Farmers who received the March 2000 FIAP program payment will automatically receive the new funding in the mail. If you did not apply previously or want to apply for the new funding for pasture land and bee colonies, application forms are available at your closest Alberta Agriculture, Food and Rural Development district office, on the Internet at www.agric.gov.ab.ca or by calling 310-4455 (toll-free). If you would like an application for the FIDP advanced payment or are interested in a farm income disaster loan, contact the nearest Agricultural Financial Services Corporation office. You can also phone my office at 645-6999.

From FGM: Heeeeeere's Brian!

By Brian Poitras

F. G. Miller Student Journalist

Hello, citizens of Elk Point. My name is Brian Poitras and I am the brand new F. G. Miller Jr./Sr. High School reporter. Mrs. Bintz, a teacher here at our school, has been searching for a new school reporter since the start of this year. Last year the school had a wonderful reporter in Leanne Wilson. I would like to personally thank Leanne for all her advice and for paving the way for myself and future FG reporters. I would also like to thank Mrs. Bintz for the opportunity to be the school's reporter and for the much needed credits I will be getting at the end of this year-long project.

The credits, though they are terrific, are not the reason I took the job of school reporter. I took the job of school reporter because I enjoy writing and I can be found at the school quite often either playing or watching all the sports games, at numerous school events, or just talking to my friends or the teachers. I am a member of almost every sports team in the school, including volleyball, basketball, cross-country running, badminton, road race and track and field. I am also in Mrs. Pentek's newly formed travel club, which will be going to Italy and Greece in the month of March.

Now, unlike Leanne, I am not the greatest academic student that the school has to offer. As a matter of fact, I was probably the last choice many of the staff would have chosen to represent the school by writing this article, but what I do have, so I've been told by members of the staff, is charisma. I have the ability to speak what's on my mind and what is on the minds of the F. G. Miller students. So, to the students, if there is anything that you would like to see covered in my article, please feel free to come up to me and tell me about it. I read that every reporter always misses something important, well, I don't want to miss anything that is important to the students of F. G. Miller.

To the adults of Elk Point who will be reading my article, again please feel free to approach me and ask me any question about the school that you would like to know.

Finally, I would like to make a plea to the people who buy the Elk Point Review and only read Mr. Bassett's article. I know you're out there because I used to be one of you, so give me a chance. No offense, Dougie, your article is the best. I am new at this and I will try very hard to give you the news of the school. I will begin my real articles next week, so until then...

A Small Business Week salute to Elk Point's newest entrepreneurs!

Elk Point has undergone a small business boom this year, with eleven totally new businesses, three established businesses moving to larger premises, and at least one formerly home-based business setting up shop in town. We salute each and every one during this Small Business Week, October 22-28.

Earlier in the year, we gave you a close-up look at the new Tags Food and Gas store, applauded as Hillside Service became Race Trac Gas, and introduced you to 1st Choice Laundromat and Heaven on Earth. Now we'd like to show you the people and places involved in nine other new businesses who have opened their doors since Small Business Week 1999....

Point 41 Pub hosts Grand Opening

Minutes before Saturday's Grand Opening at Point 41 Pub on Highway 41 in Elk Point, Mike Boratynec and his crew were busy getting the big feast and frolic underway. Chef Ida Maksymec was carrying out platters and casseroles wafting mouthwatering smells and Mike was setting out the door prizes, while waitress Rhonda Cardinal added last minute touches to the buffet. Mike's parents, Jeannine and Albert, were on hand to help him celebrate his new venture, which first opened August 15.

All traces of the former fast-food restaurant have disappeared, replaced by warm pine paneling, deep green wainscoting and a very handsome wildlife-painting border. Unique striped blinds echo the border atop the walls and add a cozy touch. A huge non-typical buck on the wall is sure to spark some hunting stories from the customers, and the big, red-topped pool table is sure to be the scene of some fierce sporting competition - there's even free pool on Thursdays. Mike did all the renovations himself and is pleased with the results.

What started off to be just your average sports bar took a whole new direction when Ida Maksymec, onetime owner of Dave's Pizza and well-known for her great cooking skills, came on staff. Now people are coming in especially to enjoy the fine food at lunch, dinner and in between. Mike offered special thanks to Ida and her husband Johnny for all their help in getting him off to a great start.

Point 41 is billed at having the "Best steaks in town," and Mike emphasizes that these steaks are also FROM town. "I buy all my meat from Elk Point Co-op and Lakeland Meat Processors, all my breads from Golden Loaf Bakery, and everything else I can, right here in town. I'm a firm believer in buying locally, and I hope my customers will consider that when they decide to come here." Mike's steaks and burgers are char-broiled, which adds that very special touch to the flavor.

CELEBRATING THEIR GRAND OPENING - Mike Boratynec, Rhonda Cardinal and Ida Maksymec were all set to serve Saturday's grand opening crowds. Also on staff are Tessa Sakowsky and Melissa Rogers.

Year round repairs at Shep's

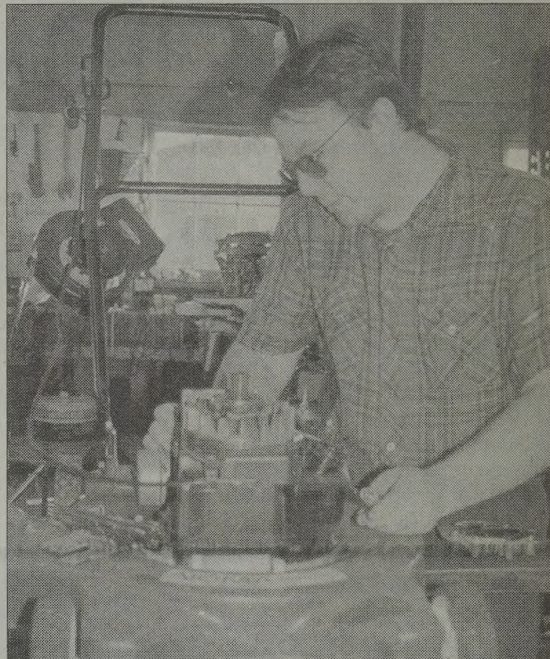

Don't wait until the white stuff is piled up on your driveway - take that snowblower down to Shep's Sales and Service to get it tuned up for winter. Shaun Sheplawy is your man for all kinds of small engine work, keeping everything from chain saws to lawn mowers to boat motors in top running order.

Shep's, located on the corner of 50th Avenue and 51 Street, has been open for just over 6 months and Shaun says he's been "busier than I expected." Summer found him with a lengthy lineup of lawnmowers to repair, as well as a steady stream of vehicles coming in for oil changes. Fall found him busy supplying farmers with pickup teeth, swather blades, chains and sprockets, making up hydraulic hoses and bringing in merchandise from Westward Parts.

THE LAST MOWER OF SUMMER gets a careful tune-up from Shaun Sheplawy, owner and operator of Shep's Sales and Service in Elk Point.

Chain saws will receive special attention in the near future, when Shaun sets up his new power sharpener, which will take care of the tedious chore of sharpening a chain in just 10 minutes. He is also bringing in a supply of new chains for those getting their wood pile ready for winter.

Taking the work out of washday

The past year has been a busy one for Pat Zarowny, who operates the recently refurbished Downtown Laundromat in one of Elk Point's oldest main street buildings.

The laundromat reopened last January after a year's absence and now offers a cheerful, homelike atmosphere as well as a quick and easy way to get your laundry washed and dried. Pat has toys for the little ones to enjoy, some of her ceramic and craft creations on display, and the coffee pot on to serve her customers.

"We try to make people welcome," she noted. "People were glad to see us open" after the building, including several upstairs rental rooms, was purchased and renovated by Harold Lefebvre.

The laundromat also offers a drop-off service, where customers can drop off their laundry and pick it up later all washed, dried and folded. Pat also pitches in to help do-it-yourself customers with the folding if they desire.

Two triple-loaders, six doubles, 17 singles and twelve dryers make short work of washday, and two of the doubles are brand new units which can do a load of wash in just 34 minutes using only 1/4 cup of detergent.

A sophisticated new image

Second generation Elk Point business-woman Melinda Henderson serves Elk Point's hair care needs in the gracious surroundings of New Image Hair Design, located behind Cal's Home Hardware.

The premises formerly housing Single Styles Creative Hair Care has been updated with mottled bronze walls, paintings in gold frames, elegant swag window treatments and flowers in muted shades. Melinda opened her doors on July 5 and business has been good, not surprising since she spent six of the nine years of her hairdressing career in Elk Point.

She is ably assisted by her mother, Jeannine Boratynec, formerly of Jeannine's Fashions, who says this business "is still dealing with fashion - just a different aspect." The two just returned from a hair show, and were bubbling over with the interesting colors and cuts they saw. Hair for 2001 is "all lengths, curly and straight - anything goes," Melinda says, adding she is more than willing to try out some of these new styles on her clients. In addition to hair offers the famous Silks line of hosiery as well Pure Hair Aromatherapy products which incorporate essential oils, ranging from basil and mint to jasmine and mandarin.

small business WEEK

Career change straight to the 'Top

Owning and operating a gas bar is "whole new world" for Amelia and Dennis Jasinsky, who came out of retirement to open Hilltop Service, located next to Bumper to Bumper on Highway 41 in Elk Point.

Amelia, a licensed practical nurse for 35 years and a secretary for the local health unit for two years, and Dennis, a mechanic at Canadian Salt's Lindbergh works for 18 years who then tried his hand at running a truck wash, opened for business on May 25. "We just love it," Amelia enthuses. "It isn't a job, it's a pastime," Dennis adds. It's really fun to hear all the stories from their customers, and the Jasinskys "enjoy the pace and the public."

The two are busy learning marketing skills, and have also learned that people are creatures of habit, many out of town people make a point of stopping at the gas bar on every trip through Elk Point.

A cheerful smile, come rain or shine, comes with every tankful of fuel at Hilltop Service, and you can stock up on snacks or pick up a hot bowl of soup while you're there, seven days a week.

DENNIS AND AMELIA JASINSKY find their new business more fun than work.

Norbert Georget's Power Life Assembly

By Elaine Ziomek
F. G. Miller High School

F. G. Miller and Heinsburg Grade 7 to 12 students were captivated by Norbert Georget's presentation on October 17.

Georget started speaking to students 16 years ago as a hobby and worked full time as an advanced EMT - Paramedic. Now he has a full time commitment to speaking to students and only works casually as an EMT-P.

Georget held the students' attention using a slide show, his own extensive experience and his great sense of humor. He focused his talk on the exact true life dangers of drinking and driving, it's OK not to drink, "get high on life," and the importance of being yourself. He talked about real people killed and real teens that spent time in jail for drinking and driving causing death.

Following the excellent presentation, Kerry Girling spoke about bullying and about a friend of his who died last April due to drinking and driving. Girling focused his discussion on being drug free, not abusing alcohol and the importance of fitness.

Both Georget and Girling are supporters of the Kids Help Phone and all money raised from the sale of "It's OK Not to Drink" bumper stickers and from autographed pictures of Girling went to the help line.

Tantalizing to Elk Point's Taste Buds

Bored with burgers and pizza? Time to try out the great Oriental cuisine at Taste Buds Restaurant on Main Street, Elk Point.

Sam and Monica Quang, formerly of Edmonton, opened the totally renovated premises on December 19, 1999 and have been serving up delightful dishes from their Chinese and western menu to capacity crowds ever since. Sam has 16 years of cooking experience behind him, and has been a restaurant owner since 1997.

The restaurant provides a dining setting of diffused lighting, comfortable chairs and handsome Oriental plaques, as you choose your meal from a large and intriguing selection of dishes to enjoy in the restaurant or to take home.

Some of the favorites of Taste Buds regulars are the wonderful Hot Pots, with a mixture of meats, vegetables and tangy sauce, served with steamed rice and brought to your table over a burner which keeps it piping hot.

Incomparable Lemon Chicken, huge bowls of flavorful Won Ton Soup and tremendous Shrimp Chow Mein are other delights to enjoy at lunch or dinner, whether a fork or chopsticks are your dining implements of choice. ... Even the fortune cookies are sure to send you home smiling!

GOOD FOOD AND SERVICE WITH A SMILE at Taste Buds comes from Monica and Sam Quang and staff members Juanita and Shirley Prosser.

News from the "Barn"

Elk Point Ag Society - Livestock Division

2000-2001

By Brenda Bintz
Barn Secretary

The annual 'Barn' meeting was held on September 28. Leigh Babcock will continue his reign as president. Shauna Campbell has taken on the treasurer's responsibilities, as well as continuing to do the scheduling of events. I, Brenda Bintz, was encouraged to take the secretary's position. I think they thought that if I were busy writing minutes, I'd have less time to talk?

The 'Barn' has many events free of charge for community spectators. For example, on November 26 and again on December 30, there are gymkhanas starting at 1 p.m. Have you ever watched team roping? Most Thursday evenings and some Sunday afternoons you can find local cowboys roping at the barn. For a complete schedule of events, stop by the arena and pick up a copy of the calendar.

The indoor riding facility has potential for other community events. If you can come up with an idea for an event that needs a large, heated building, you could contact Shauna Campbell to rent the arena.

Our next meeting will be on Monday, November 27 at 8 p.m.

what's NEWS at the LIBRARY?

What's new and exciting at the library? Lots!

By Daphne Schnurer
Librarian

Science in a Crate's great presentation on "Rigs, Rocks and Running Shoes" will be on display at the library all this week. Bring the kids in and check out the fun, but sometimes challenging, games and puzzles.

Although our new Gates computer is not hooked up to the Internet yet, the other wonderful programs available are worth checking out. It's not just for kids, either - some of the great software it offers are the Encarta Encyclopedia and programs on travel, geometry and algebra, etc. For the kids, there are: Arthur, Green Eggs and Ham and other Dr. Seuss, Magic School Bus, Barney and Mercer Mayer's Little Critter.

Be sure to ask us about our recommended web sites for kids,

They are definitely worth searching.

Oprah Fans!

We have the newest and back titles available. Think you might have missed one? We have the complete list available.

Speaking of computers, the library's computers are available to everyone, so whether you need to update a resume, write a letter or just surf the net, these services are there for you at no cost.

Unsure about computers or the Internet? Never used a mouse? Ask us to book in a time with myself or one of our volunteers to learn how easy and fun it can be.

See you at the library! And don't forget our Storytime Halloween Party this Friday at 10:30 a.m. Dress up in your scariest costume and come on down to join the fun!

Skills clinic exciting for hockey players

By Doug Basset
Review Sports

The arena was jammed with excitement this past weekend as forty kids took part in the Kelly Pratt skills clinic. Some are new ones to the system, just starting out, and some have been here before, but, as always it was a worthwhile and a good way to start the season.

Incredible as it may seem, the information I received last week about the bantams having a league game must have been wishful thinking, because no one except myself knew anything about a game. But, standby, because the games are about to begin and when they do, you know I will be there to keep you up to date. And don't forget this coming weekend, October 28 / 29, Elk Point will be hosting a referee clinic, starting at 8 am on Saturday and Sunday. It's a good way to learn the game, and make some extra $$$$ cash. Anyone interested in attending may put their name down on the bulletin board at the arena.

And how about those Leafs. Eh! After a dismal start they cleaned up in Alberta. Two in a row. Look's like we can come out of the closet again for a while.

Further Ed update

Our new Tone and Stretch series with instructor Cindy Casper is already underway, but you can get involved. The sessions go every Tuesday morning, October 10 to November 28 at 9:00 a.m., at a cost of $24 for the whole series or $3 per week on a drop-in basis.

Call Verona Lea for more information or to register at 724-4101.

IN MEMORIAM

ELIUK, Metro

In loving memory of Metro Eliuk, who passed away October 23, 1997.

Loved ones go, and yet stay
To walk beside me everyday Unseen, unheard, but always near.

So loved, so missed, so very dear.
Quietly remembered every day.
And sadly missed along life's way

Gone are the times we used to share
But in my heart you're always there.

Forever in our hearts, Tillie, Alice & Dale, Ron & Sylvia, Eugene & Bonnie and Families.
